SCOTT'S ALL*STARS

"Where Excellence is Expected!"

Greetings Scott's All*Stars supporters,

It is with great pleasure that I introduce you to Scott's All*Stars. Scott's All*Stars program is an academic/basketball program for students who have the potential to attend college and play basketball at the college level. Students must have an 80 GPA, no discipline problems, and perform community service activities. We teach life skills that will prepare them to be successful students and productive citizens. Our mission is "to teach basketball and life skills to young men who have the potential academically and athletically to play basketball on the college level". Our vision is to remain with our team members until they graduate from high school by placing them in a mentoring program that will continue to motivate them to reach their academic, athletic and community goals.

We are very proud of our team's progress this year and the community support we received. Without supportive parents and community supporters this program would not be as successful. Scott's All*Stars' theme for our award ceremony this year is "Greatness is Expected with Excellence". Our program is unique in that we require community service from our players. This ensures they develop strong character. We mandate that our kids be respectful and academically sound. Furthermore, we instill in our kids the expectation that they will graduate from college. Being an All*Star is very demanding, but worth it! Scott's All*Stars is committed to helping children academically and athletically, but it requires a major commitment from players and parents. Our parents and players commit to this program for six months and once they become "All*Stars", they are always "All*Stars". With the expectation of excellence we are expected to exhibit greatness. We strive to ensure the outcome of our program will be greatness.

When I started this program in January of 2010, I couldn't imagine it would grow as quickly and become as successful as it has over the last three years. In only our fourth season, we have helped mentored hundreds of kids, played in over 300 games, performed hundreds hours of community service, and visited over 30 colleges, with students in grades ranging from 4th-12th. We are proud that we are providing more kids with a vision to attend and graduate from college. We truly feel that Scott's All*Stars will have an epic impact on kids graduating college in this area on academic and/or athletic scholarships. I personally guarantee that all kids who are in our program from elementary to high school will receive one or more college scholarships. The academic behaviors they learn in our program will ensure college success.

Thanks again to everyone who has contributed in some way to our program. Your contribution, no matter the size, is always appreciated!

Best wishes

Marcus Scott, IV

Elder Anthony Johnson

Elder Anthony Keith Johnson was born on March 31, 1983 in Germany to Deacon Glenn and Evangelist Terry Johnson. He was the first child born to his mother after she was baptized in the Holy Ghost. He received his spiritual foundation from Beirne Avenue Church of God in Christ in Huntsville, Alabama where his grandfather, Superintendent Dave Draper, Sr. served as his Pastor. Since the age of 16, the anointing on Elder Johnson's life has affected many lives through his evangelistic and deliverance ministry. Countless souls have been saved, sick bodies have been healed, and lives have been changed. That ministry has transcended social, racial, economical, and denominational barriers. The relevant and timely message God has given him has been embraced by both the older and younger generations and has given him the opportunity to be the guest speaker and lecturer at various colleges and social organizations. Elder Johnson is also a community leader and has been recognized for his leadership skills and organizational abilities in the religious and social communities. Since his teen years, Elder Johnson has worked in almost every conceivable capacity and every level (local, district, state and national) in the church-YPWW President, Vacation Bible School Director, Pastor's Aide, Music Ministry, Evangelism Ministry, Planning & Steering Committee and many others.

Elder Johnson successfully served as District Youth Pastor for over seven years under the late Bishop Chandler D. Owens in the Central Georgia COGIC Jurisdiction (Atlanta, Georgia). He has been featured in several magazines and news articles. In 2010, he won the Vision magazine "Youth Pastor of the Year" award. He serves proudly under the dynamic leadership of Bishop Julian A. Jones of the Higher Dimensions Christian Fellowship, Inc.

Elder Johnson holds a Bachelor of Business Administration in Management from Savannah State University and a Masters of Arts in Teaching from Armstrong-Atlantic State University. Elder Johnson has received numerous awards and recognitions for his academic, ministerial, and social involvement and accomplishments. He was also an Instructor at Savannah Technical College where he taught Business Management. He is currently a teacher at Midway Middle School where he has been awarded "Teacher of the Year" two years in a row.

This young man is truly an Evangelist sent from God. He has ministered many places across this country but his greatest joy is watching individuals give their life to the Lord and serve him with their whole heart.

HISTORY

The vision for Scott's All*Stars began when Marcus Scott, IV, noticed the absence of basketball programs designed for children his son's age in the Hinesville area. Mr. Scott was determined that his son, Marcus Scott, V, and other kids, would not have to wait until they got to high school to face the level of competition that kids 10 and under in the North Georgia area were facing in middle school. Marcus Scott began conducting research in order to discover the best way to implement such a program in Liberty County.

During his research, Mr. Scott realized that while AAU was a great way for kids to gain basketball exposure, it lacked one essential piece - an academic component. Scott recognized that by not making it mandatory that players strive for academic excellence, along with athletic development, players would gain a false sense of what was necessary for success in life. Using this as his foundation, Scott designed a program which not only requires the players to have passing grades, but to maintain an 80 grade point average. According to Scott, Scott's All*Stars was created not to be a basketball program, but an academic program that incorporates basketball training and exposure, while ensuring students are exhibiting academic excellence. Scott also wanted the players to always feel a need to give back to the community. This prompted him to add a community service element to his program.

Scott's vision became a reality on January 15, 2010, when Scott's All*Stars program held its first tryouts conducted by president Marcus Scott, IV, head coach Daryl West and assistant coaches Khari Collins and Kevin Corwick. The program has grown from 12 young men in its first year, to four teams of over 40 players last year. This year, due to funding and the number of qualified coaches, Scott's All*Stars only had two teams of 16 players. The quality of this program is now known throughout the state of Georgia which is a testament to the commitment of its founder and coaching staff, the hard work of its players, and the support of its parents.

Scott's All*Stars continues its pursuit of academic and athletic distinction by teaching players that average is below average and excellence is what is expected. Attending college is a goal that is engrained into the young men at an early age and cultivated by Scott's All*Stars. Mr. Scott feels that the earlier kids start thinking about college, the more likely they will attend college. This is why on every road trip Scott's All*Stars' players are given the opportunity to visit local universities. They have visited colleges around the country, traveling to places such as New York and California. It is during college trips that students gain lifelong experiences that are unforgettable.

Scott's All*Stars is not a basketball program, but an academic program that incorporates basketball training and exposure, while ensuring students are exhibiting academic excellence. Scott All*Stars' coaches are committed to working with players until they graduate from high school and attend college. The team's goal is for all players to receive college scholarships for academics, basketball, or both! Scott's All*Stars is committed to making sure all kids who remain in the program from elementary to high school graduation receive college scholarships. All players are expected to not only attend college, but graduate from a four-year institution. Mr. Scott and his staff will continue to provide academic assistance until they graduate from high school and in college, if necessary.

In its first year, Scott's All*Stars quickly became a premier program with many established organizations mimicking the blueprint that has made Scott's All*Stars successful. Our teams are committed to the ABC's of Scott's All*Stars: Academics first, which is evident by our program overall average GPA of 87 for three years in a row; Basketball training, which is evident by our team success on the court, having a player ranked in the national in our program and a team that placed in the Top 8 in the nation and playing in over 200 games in 3 years; Community Service and College visits. Our players have completed over 100 hours of community service and visited over thirty colleges in three years; Drug Prevention and Dedicated mentors. We teach drug prevention and all of our coaches are dedicated mentors. Furthermore, we provide Educational assistance to any student whose grades fall below an 80 GPA.

Also eight out of eight of our seniors went to college, in the military, or received a scholarship with our first 2012 graduating class. Four players received athletic scholarships, one received academic scholarship, two will be attending college, and one will be joining the military. We feel if we can have these result with one year of working with juniors in high school, kids that started with us in the fourth grade will definitely receive an academic and/or athletic scholarship.

Dear Friends and Supporters:

LET'S SHOW YOUR SUPPORT FOR OUR STUDENT'S EDUCATION AND ATHLETIC ABILITIES!

We are soliciting your financial support on behalf of Scott's All*Stars, Inc. program, a 501 c3 nonprofit organization. Scott's All*Stars started in January 2010 with a group of twelve fourth graders that were academically sound and were talented in basketball. Due to the success of that program, we grew to elementary, middle and high school teams. All players must maintain an 80 average, perform monthly community service, maintain appropriate behavior in school and are required to be committed to staying drug free. Over the last three years, our student-athletes have exceeded expectation by maintaining an 87 GPA and fulfill all our program's goals. This year we hope to exceed last year's goals. I am sure you cannot find a program in the nation that has maintained this high level of excellence for three year. These athletes are to be commended for their hard work. We are requesting funds to provide scholarships for team members who can not afford to pay the program's membership fees. The membership fees cover the cost for expenses associated with travel, tutorial services, uniforms and other items essential items needed to operate a successful youth program.

Scott's All*Stars program teaches more than just basketball to these gifted young boys. We teach life skills that will prepare them to be successful students and productive citizens. Our mission is "to teach basketball and life skills to a group of young boys that have the potential academically and athletically to play basketball on the college level". Our vision is to remain with our team members until they graduate from high school by placing them in a mentoring program that will continue to motivate them to reach their athletic, academic and community goals.

The following is a list of our goals for this year:

- ✓ To have all team members on honor roll
- ✓ To provide resources for students who are not performing academically
- ✓ To build students that are committed to Academics, Basketball, and Community Service and Drug Awareness/Prevention
- ✓ To have great role models present for all team members
- ✓ To provide mentorship to all team members in the program
- ✓ To have team members that improve everyday, in every way
- ✓ To win a national championship at any division
- ✓ To have team members perform community service
- ✓ To ensure all players are drug free
- ✓ Attend church as a group monthly
